

WIENER ZEITUNG, 18.2.2005

“Odd Vienna”

Andreas Altmann, born 1960 in Vienna, has been taking photos since childhood. Exhibitions and publications honor his work up to now. In the year 2002 he opened his own studio which serves him as an art gallery as well as studio for his own projects. The location of his gallery next to the famous “Hundertwasser-House”, which is visited by many tourists, inspired him to look deeper into the tourist attractions of Vienna.

For 2 years now he is looking behind the facades of his hometown; through photography trying to make things visible he – and us – very often normally just walk by without noticing: everyday occurrences, seemingly uninteresting, unattractive, odd and also beautiful. On long walks through the city, the Vienna of the Viennese, Andreas Altmann sometimes feels like a tourist himself, who playfully and with the wink of an eye always discovers something new. The pictures of these walks can be seen in his gallery in the 3rd District, Löwengasse 45.